25,000 MOURN FOR GOLDFADEN

GREATER FUNERAL TURNOUT THAN FOR RABBI JOSEPH.

No Trouble Such as That Procession Caused -Representatives of Many Societies of the East Side Follow Body of Play-wright, Poet and Zionist to Cometery.

The East Side forgot its other troubles even the rent strike, for a few hours yesterday forenoon while it turned out 25,000 streng to do honor to the memory of Abraham Goldfaden, playwright, poet and Zionist. Persons who mingled in the growd at the funeral of Rabbi Joseph five years ago declared that the throng of sorrowing Jews who followed the casket from the playwright's home to the People's Theatre on the Bowery and thence across the Williamsburg Bridge to Washington Cemetery, Brooklyn, was even larger than that at the rabbi's funeral, which heretofore has held the record.

While the police were taken unawares by the immense crowd during the early part of the ceremonies yesterday, there was no such riot as attended Rabbi Joseph's funeral and got Inspector Schmittberger into trouble. Inspector Schmittrger was sent to the scene yesterday when word reached Police Headquarters that the police assigned to the line of march were powerless to handle the crowds. With him were Inspector Burfeind, the captains and the reserves of all the adjacent precincts, about 250 men in all, including many mounted men. Chief Inspector Cortright went out himself early in the forenoon to take charge of the police arrangements. The result was order from first to last, with the crowd held constantly in

As early as 7 o'clock the street in front of the dead poet's home in East Eleventh street was filled with mourners. The crowd kept increasing until at 10 o'clock, the hour set for the funeral procession to start, the police had hard work clearing a lane for the hearse. Here Cantor Orenstein of the Willett street synagogue chanted a dirge and the Hebrew Chorus Union sang a song written for it by Goldfaden, "Back to Zion."

dirge and the Hebrew Chorus Union sang a song written for it by Goldfaden, "Back to Zion."

In the line of march from the house to the People's Theatre on the Bowery, before and following the hearse and occupying the cause of Zionism, whose members sang Goldfaden's songs on the way to the theatre; the Hebrew Actors Union, the Hebrew Variety Actors Union, the Hebrew Variety Actors Union, the Hebrew Theatrical Musical Club, the Theatrical Tailors Union, the Bill Posters and Ushers Union, the Bill Posters and Ushers Union, the uniformed rank of Independent American Schuetzenbund, the Austro-Hungarian Zionists in uniform, and the Don Barbarnel Lodge, in whose plot in Washington Cemetery the poet was buried.

The procession stopped in front of the Hebrew Actors Club, 108 Second avenue, which was draped in mourning and had the Zionist flag at half mast. At least 20,000 persons were following the hearse when it stopped in front of the club. Here Cantor Weisels chanted the hymn for the repose of the soul, and dirges were sung by the Chorus Union. Then the cortege went on to the People's Theatre.

It is in the People's Theatre that Goldfaden's latest play, "Ben Ami," is being produced. Here he last appeared in public three weeks ago to thank the Hebrews for the cordial reception his play had received. Many of the prominent Hebrews of the city were on the stage. Among them were. Dr. David Blaustein, Dr. Radin of the People's Synagogue, Joseph Barondess, Dr. Birnhaum, lately arrived from Austria, and Dr. Maslinsky. These men all eulogized the dead exponent of Zionism and a funeral oration was delivered by Dr. Maslinsky which brought sobs from the men and women in all parts of the thentre. Over the stage hung the flag of Zion-blue stripes on a white field with a six pointed star in the centre.

After the singing of the funeral hymn the Zionist flag was taken down and draned

Zionist flag was taken down and draped around the coffin and the pallbeaers started out. The police had expected a rush for the coffin as it passed down the crowded asises of the theatre and as the general movement of the audience started the police ordered every one back to the seats.

As the procession wound through the East Side on the way to the cemetery a stop was made in front of the Jewish newspaper offices facing Seward Park, where Goldoffices facing Seward Park, where Goldfaden did much of his work. At about 1 o'clock the procession crossed the William sburg Bridge on the way to the ceretery. The services there were brief.

MAYOR GETS HIS STRUCK JURY But Will Appeal From Ruling on the Bill of Particulars.

Coincident with the decision yesterday of Justice Davis in the Supreme Court granting the application of Mayor Mc-Clellan for a struck jury to try the ouster suft brought against the Mayor by Attorney-General Jackson came the announcement that the Mayor would appeal from Justice Davis's other decision of a few days ago denying the Mayor's application for a further bill of particulars from Jackson. One of the chief contentions by E. L.

Richards, counsel for McClellan, in his application for a struck jury, was that such an order would facilitate the early trist of the ouster suit, which the Mayor, according to his lawyer, wanted to have rushed along. The appeal from the bill of particulars is likely to delay the trial

GEORGIANS LYNCH TWO NEGROES. Mob Takes Vengeance on Pair of Burgiars Who Assaulted Woman.

DURLIN, Ga., Jan. 10 .- Two negroes who knocked S. M. Livingstone senseless and assaulted his wife near Chester, Ga., on Wednesday night have been captured by a mob, shot to pieces and their bodies burned.

The negroes entered the Livingstone home with the intention of robbing. They were opposed by Livingstone, whom they overpowered and beat into insensibility with an axe.

They then assaulted the woman and forced her to tell where her husband's money was hidden, and in the struggle backed her so badly with a knife that her recovery is doubtful.

The negroes, whose names were Tom Bolev and Abe Webb, had been employed on the Livingstone place as farmhands.

TO ATTRACT PRIVATE CAPITAL Public Service Board Will Ask for Advice

The Public Service Commission will hold a public hearing at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of January 17 to listen to suggestions as to the manner in which the existing rapid transit act should be amended so as to attract private capital in the building of new subways. Under the Elsberg amendments passed in 1906 contracts for construction and operation must be let separately and it was provided that the operating period should not be for more than twenty years, with a possible renewal of not more than ten years, and that within that period the contractor should pay a rental sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds issued for construction as well as an annual sum to a sinking fund for the paying off of the

It is felt by the commission that it would be impossible under these terms to get bid-ders on new subways, and as the city is not in a position financially to provide money for further subways the only way out of the difficulty is to amend the existing

These are the points on which the commission will ask for advice at the public hearing next Friday:

First-Whether the city should be fined to municipal construction only.

Second—Whether the city should also allow main rapid transit lines to be constructed by private corporations at their wn expense.
Third—Whether franchises for main lines like that granted for the McAdoo tunnel under Sixth avenue would be safe. Fourth-Whether the twenty year term of operation of a municipally constructed rapid ransit road should be increased.

Fifth—Whether the city should be allowed o make contracts for operation of extensions of existing subways for as long a time as the original contract upon terms.

Sixth—Whether the city should allow ex-existing rapid transit lines holding franchises in perpetuity to construct extensions at their own expense, subject to proper

The commission reported yesterday that in the month of December there had been 51 persons killed on the railroads within the metropolitan district and that there hed been 149 serious accidents. The total number of minor accidents was 3,995.

CAPT. COONEY CHARGES LIBEL. Complains Because of a Letter to Bingham

About Grafting. A charge of criminal libel was made in the Yorkville police court yesterday against Isaac M. Bach by Police Captain John J. Cooney of the East Sixty-seventh street station house in consequence of a letter that was sent to Police Commissioner Bingham. The letter asserted that small dry goods dealers along First and Second avenues paid the captain $25 a month each to be allowed to do business on Sundays. The letter gave the names and addresses of ten shopkeepers and declared that Frederick Wachtel, who keeps a small store at Second avenue and Seventy-first street, collected the money and handed it over to the captain. The signature "I. Bach" was at the bottom of the letter. Printed at the top were the words: "Bach Brothers. Dry Goods Seventy-fifth street and First avenue."

When the letter was produced in court bast Sunday Magistrate Wahle issued sub-poenas for all of the men who were said to have given up money. A summons was issued for Isaac M. Bach to appear in court yesterday.

Capt. Cooney declared that he had re-ceived no money as asserted in the letter.
The shopkeepers were called up before the Magistrate yesterday and all were emphatic in saying they had given no money to the captain.

Isaac M. Bach and his brother Henry were the letter to the Police Commissioner. The Magistrate asked Isaac M. to write "Police Magistrate asked Isaac M. to write "Police. Commissioner" on a slip of paper.

He did so and spelled the final syllable of Commissioner "ar." The same spelling occurred in the letter.

"If I am any judge of handwriting you wrote that letter," said the Court after inspecting the writing on the slip.

He then turned to Capt. Cooney and said:
"If you want to make a charge of criminal."

He then turned to Capt. Cooney and said:
"If you want to make a charge of criminal libel against this man I will entertain it."
"He has cast a serious reflection on my character, and I want to make the complaint against him." responded the captain.
The formal complaint was then made out and Bach was held in $500 bail for examination on Tuesday.

READY TO MOUNT CALIPH. Taxidermist Bosses a Gang of Workers on the Six Ton Corpse. A taxidermist and a gang of men from the American Museum of Natural History had a big job yesterday in cutting up Caliph, the dead hippopotamus in the Central Park Menagerie, preparatory to mounting him for exhibition in the museum. Caliph weighed about six tons.

Head Keeper Snyder broke down and cried each time he went near the dead beast. It seemed to him a personal loss, as he entered the service of the menagerie in 1882 and old Caliph arrived there four of particulars is likely to delay the trial for many months more.

An inspection of the dead animal yester-day showed that his grinders had worn away through age and he had been unable to chew his hay and other food.

Justice Davis in granting the motion for a struck jury did so on the theory that the action is of the gravest importance and has been widely and bitterly discussed. It might prove impossible, he says, to get an impartial jury in the ordinary way, certainly not in any reasonable time.

"From every consideration of public pelley," Justice Davis says, "and from a due regard for the rights of all the parties. I think this motion should be granted."

A struck jury is drawn by the Sheriff from his list of Sheriff's jurors. Twenty-five names are struck off, and from these counsel agree to select twelve men. As McClellan is appealing from the bill of particulars decision, Jackson and Hearst may appeal from the struck jury ruling, though they also profess a desire for an early and speedy trial.

Haster in Injunction Suff Finds That Fumes Do Little Damage.

Butts, Mon., Jan. 10.—If Judge Hunt of the Federal court approves the findings in the smelter smoke injunction suit brought against the Vashoe smelter of the Amalgament Copper Company by farmers, which were filed in court to-day by Master in Chancery Crane, an injunction against the smelter will not be issued.

The master finds that no permanent damage has been done to the land by the smelter fumes or sulphur deposits and that no live stock was killed by arsenic. The worst that the arsenic from the smelter has done was to sicken some stock, according to the master.

THE ECOFFS DISCHARGED.

Evidence of Charges of Impairing Morals of Minors Lacking.

Martin Ecoff of 175 Essex street and Fannie Ecoff, who were arrested on Tuesday on a charge of impairing the morals of minors, were discharged yesterday by Magistrate Walsh in the Essex Market court. Their arrest came about through the complaint of Harry Sobel, 13 years old. The police were unable to get any cor-roboration of his statement.

Jacob Summers, who was arrested with the Ecoffs, had been seen by Detective Horton jostling pedestrians in Orchard street while a small boy tried to pick their pockets. Summers was held in $1,000 bail.
